HARD TIMES.

CAUSE AND CURE.

ARTICLE I.

No argument is needed to prove that business interests, manufacturing industries, and all departments of trade and commerce are depressed and in a bad financial condition.
Every week's reports increase the number of factories, mines, and other business concerns that have shut down or suspended, thus adding to the thousands upon thousands of laborers, artisans, specialists, clerks and others who depend upon the existence of these various industries and institutions for a livelihood for themselves and families, and who have thus been thrown out of employment.

Lack of employment is always bad, but it is difficult to realize its terrible effects upon those whose daily bread depends upon the prosperity of a manufacturing concern and which is suddenly closed. It means actual want and often starvation to helpless women and little children who are powerless to protect and provide for themselves.

There are to-day hundreds upon hundreds of such concerns that have heretofore prospered and there are also thousands upon thousands of such helpless families who suddenly find want and starvation staring them in the face because of the fact that these factories and other concerns are now closed.

Something must have been instrumental in producing this effect, and that something is

THE CAUSE.

There is undoubtedly some principal cause which has brought about this result.

The "Gold Bugs" of Wall Street allege that it is due to the fact that the Government has attempted the use of silver in accordance with the terms of the Sherman Silver Bill, while the "Silver Crank" of the Silver States just as strongly charges the whole difficulty to Wall Street and the "Gold Bugs," who attempt to force a single gold standard as a basis of all money.

It may be true that the Sherman Law may need to be repealed and a modified provision for the use of silver as money made to replace it, but it is quite certain that the claims urged by extremists cannot prevail.

Silver has been used as money by all nations and peoples from the day that Judas Iscariot sold our Lord for thirty pieces of silver to the present date.

It has been in existence among our own people since the early settlers brought it from their homes across the ocean.
With all the complaints that have been made against it one may purchase as much in meat, provisions, boots, shoes, or clothing to-day with five silver dollars as he can with a five dollar gold piece, a five dollar bill, or five dollars of any other money made by any nation that issues money.

So we may fairly claim that since silver has retained its purchasing power on a par with gold and paper money, since the very working men, merchants and manufacturers who have been forced to suspend would all be glad to continue work and business and accept these same silver dollars at par for their products, we must conclude that there is something besides the silver question to be disposed of—something besides the silver question that is causing trouble.

THE TARIFF.

All readers will concede that prior to the election of last fall the Republican and the Democratic party were opposed to each other, or the tariff question; that the Republicans in convention, on the stump, and on rostrum insisted that our people needed a protective tariff; one that tended to foster our own industries; that tended to keep out foreign made goods and thus permit our own laborers and manufacturing concerns to continue to furnish such goods and articles as we use here at home by our own people, because of the fact we can make these goods enough and cheap enough.

It will be remembered that Republican Speakers and Press insisted that the McKinley Bill should remain the protective bulwark to shield our laborers and manufacturing industries.

It will also be remembered that from the time the National Democratic Convention assembled in Chicago in June until Grover Cleveland was elected, the Democratic platform, speakers and Press, all denounced protective tariff and insisted that the McKinley Bill must be repealed as soon as democrats got into power.

So it is conceded that the Democratic party came into power pledged to the people that they would revise the tariff and change the system.
Upon this point I now quote from the message of President Harrison dated December 6, 1892, to the Congress that convened soon after the election of Cleveland upon a platform that promised to thus change our tariff system.

"I recommend that whole subject of tariff revision be left to the incoming Congress. It is a matter of regret that this matter must be delayed for at least three months; for the threat of great tariff changes introduces so much of uncertainty that an amount, not easily estimated, of business inaction and of diminished production will necessarily result."

Here then is a cause for the "business inaction and diminished production" that is to-day closing the factory, store and shop. The Democratic party came into power. They have control of the President, Cabinet, the House, and the Senate. They convened in March inaugurated Cleveland, and remained in session three months with full power to act upon the tariff. This they failed to do.
They deferred action until they meet again. Meanwhile all that manufacturers and laborers and the people at large can do is to await their action.
It is expected that the system will be attacked for the party. Their press, platform and speakers have faithfully promised that it shall be done —that a change shall be made. But although Congress assembled all they did was to threaten action. They did not act. They still threaten action and meanwhile all that manufacturers and others who have thousands of dollars invested and who have furnished labor for the thousands of laborers and dependent families who are now idle and helpless—all that these can do is to await the falling of the blow thus aimed at the prosperity of our country.

The men who have been in the habit of investing half a million of dollars in raw material to be manufactured into products of the shop or loom say "I shall move more cautiously. I do not dare to invest half a million of dollars in manufactured goods to be sold next year for by that time the Democratic President, House, and Senate may revise the tariff—they may pass a law that shall permit the goods of foreign nations to come in and replace mine. If the foreign manufacturer sells his goods here and fills the market, then I cannot sell mine.
He can keep laborers his at work but I cannot furnish work for mine for my market will be gone". And so these men do one of two things. They invest less money—they go slow—or shut up their factories.

If they invest but half of their capital in material and labor then the other half is withdrawn from circulation. These are principal causes for stringency of the money market.
Manufacturers, Capitalists, and Bankers refuse to pay out money until it is determined what Congress will do.
They do not dare to do so. This repeated in hundreds of instances tires us money.

President Harrison, a keen business man of judgment and foresight, clearly foresaw disastrous consequences that must follow the "uncertainty" of which he spoke and he certainly spoke as a prophet when he said "Business inaction and lack of production must necessarily result."
